DETAILED ACTION

Claims 1-20 and 25-27 are pending in the instant application.

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim 10, drawn to a product of Formula I with all of the limitations of claim 10.

Group II, claim 9, drawn to a product of Formula I with all of the limitations of claim 9, provided that the product is not encompassed in Group I above.

Group III, claim 6, drawn to a product of Formula I with all of the limitations of claim 6, provided that the product is not encompassed in any of the Groups I-II above.

Group IV, claims 1-5, 7, and 8, drawn to a product of Formula I, provided that the product is not encompassed in any of the Groups I-III above.

Group V, claims 16, drawn to a product of Formula IA with all of the limitations of claim 16, provided that the product is not encompassed in any of the Groups I-IV above.

Group VI, claim 14, drawn to a product of Formula IA with all of the limitations of claim 14, provided that the product is not encompassed in any of the Groups I-V.

Group VII, claim 12, drawn to a product of Formula IA with all of the limitations of claim 12, provided that the product is not encompassed in any of the Groups I-VI.

Group VIII, claims 11, 13, and 15, drawn to a product of Formula IA, provided that the product is not encompassed in any of the Groups I-VII.

Groups IX-XVI, claims 17-20, drawn to a product composition with one of the product Groups I-VIII, respectively.

Groups XVII-XXXII, claims 25-27, drawn to a method of using one of the product Groups I-XVI, respectively.

2. The inventions listed as Groups I-XXXII do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons:

Charo et al. (US 7,074,770 B1) in claim 14, teaches the use of the compound:

2,4'-dihydroxy-2-(4-methoxyphenyl)acetophenone for treating disease states, which has the identical core of the Formula I and is the common technical feature of all of the claims in the instant application. Therefore, the technical feature linking the claims does not constitute a special technical feature under PCT Rule 13.2. Accordingly, the claims lack unity of invention, and restriction is proper.

3. This application contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

The species are as listed as compounds 1-158 in Table I and II of the specification.

Applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single species to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. The reply must also identify the claims readable on the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered non-responsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

4. The species listed above do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, the species lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: the technical feature linking the species is a compound with the core of Formula I. As discussed above, this compound lacks novelty, and therefore the species do not share unity of invention.

5. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103(a) of the other invention.

6. It is noted that compounds of Formula I do not all share a common structure and common function, and therefore they do not constitute a proper Markush group. If the elected species is found allowable, the Examiner will only consider other compounds that share a common core structure and function with the elected species and are obvious variants thereof.

7. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

8. The examiner has required restriction between product and process claims. Where applicant elects claims directed to the product, and the product claims are subsequently found allowable, withdrawn process claims that depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of the allowable product claim will be considered for rejoinder. All claims directed to a nonelected process invention must require all the limitations of an allowable product claim for that process invention to be rejoined.

In the event of rejoinder, the requirement for restriction between the product claims and the rejoined process claims will be withdrawn, and the rejoined process claims will be fully examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. Thus, to be allowable, the rejoined claims must meet all criteria for patentability including the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 101, 102, 103 and 112. Until all claims to the elected product are found allowable, an otherwise proper restriction requirement between product claims and process claims may be maintained. Withdrawn process claims that are not commensurate in scope with an allowable product claim will not be rejoined. See MPEP § 821.04(b). Additionally, in order to retain the right to rejoinder in accordance with the above policy, applicant is advised that the process claims should be amended during prosecution to require the limitations of the product claims. Failure to do so may result in a loss of the right to rejoinder. Further, note that the prohibition against double patenting rejections of 35 U.S.C. 121 does not apply where the restriction requirement is withdrawn by the examiner before the patent issues. See MPEP § 804.01.
